

Latest news from the Northgate project team

February 2023

Chester hailed as one of the best high-streets in the UK

Despite the constant stream of bad news about the demise of traditional retail in the face of online sales and post-pandemic woes, a recent survey by The Telegraph of 15 towns and cities placed Chester as second only to York in a vote for the best high-streets in the country.

Described as 'compact, bustling and packed with independent boutiques, Chester is big on atmosphere and rich with heritage' with the new market praised for its range of food. This accolade comes hot on the heels of Chester being named as the most beautiful city in the world based on extensive Google Street View research and alignment with the principles of the Golden Section no less! More

Win tickets to Turtle Bay's opening events

Set to open later in the spring, we can't wait for the Caribbean good times. Sign-up to be at one of their soft openings.

Market Updates

Don't miss our first trader demonstrations on stage starting on 7 February, at 10:30am with Karen from the market Fishmongers who will be demonstrating fish cookery. Details of further monthly traders demos coming soon.

Looking for somewhere different for Valentine's? Tables are now available on a first come basis to book from 7 – 10pm, on Tuesday 14th February within the Garden area ideal for a Valentine's meal for two. How to book

Coming soon – new traders Deva Deli and RKM Wools will soon be starting their fit-outs, plus a Fairtrade goods pop-up from 28th Feb. for 2 weeks during Fairtrade fortnight.

Chester in Lego returns

The display from the old market has now been updated and carefully rebuilt in new bespoke cabinets in the Garden area, thanks to Richard our wonderful Lego genius.